Demographics:

An after-school program located in North Port St. Joe. It began in 2000 for the purpose of assisting community children who were deficient in their reading and math scores and skills. Most of these children live in single parent households headed by a female. 90% or from low income families where the parent / guardian has income below $25,000; they are on free or reduced lunch. Parents are either unemployed or has a problem acquiring sufficient employment because of their poor academic and / or social skills.

Students in the program have problems academically and or socially partially due to the lack of parental support academically in the home.

The goal of the NPSJY Initiative is to help break the cycle of poverty and unemployable skills by providing children and families with support through academic preparations in math and reading that will prepare them for the future workforce.

Building Needs:

1. Repair roof
2. Enclose open area beside the main building
3. Replace all windows
4. Replace all flooring
5. Paint inside of building
6. Repair plumbing in restrooms
- 7.
